

The distant mountain in your dream

The distant mountain in your dream
Is real and conquered
The tide is turned and now we see
How old we are upon this wave of tumult

Grow only deeds
Opening over Occident
Death obeying goes

I am very glad to sink
Into the new Spring of the sea
And reckless O at last reckless
Like these open petals
Rise upon your glorious morning.